Dear Brother:--

I will just drop you a line in regard to Gasoline engines for Australia. I want to say now that I have found the engine, and we are using it, that is the best thing that I ever saw. It was in the office when you were here. That ten horse engine turns all our three cylinder presses, our two jobbers, our paper cutter, and wire sticher, and nine ceiling fans, and it does not trouble it at all. We have also attached the elevator to it, and it works that all right.

But these engines cost money, and yet I can get a ten horse engine for about $400, shipped direct from the factory. This is considerably under price, and I have the good will of the agent here, and he will do all for me that he can. Now, if I can serve the Australian house in any way, I shall be glad to do so. If I were able, I would be glad to make them a present of an engine, but but of course, this is impossible with the load of missionary work that I am carrying here in the South.

We are wonderfully pleased with our new building. I am especially pleased with my own rooms. I wish you could see them, and see how well fitted they are for me to enjoy in the line of work that I am doing. I am very thankful to the Lord for all that he is doing for us. I will say that our building will be completed in a few days free from debt. We have a good elevator, and it works nicely. Our bindery is doing good work. Our presses are all that we could ask them to be, and we are a united happy company of workers.

Hoping that you are well, and that your work is going well with you I remain, as ever,

Your brother,

J. White
