Dear Sister

This morning I have given a little study to your inquiry regarding the foundation for the belief which we hold, that the children who have died whose parents are believers, will be saved.

This doctrine is founded on Jeremiah 31:17. Mrs. White comments on this in "Prophets and Kings" page 239, and in this comment clearly indicates the soundness of our position.

In 1899, replying to a letter of inquiry from a sister about a child being saved who had recently died, Mrs. White wrote the following:

"As you relate your experience in the death of your child, and how you bowed in prayer, submitting your will to the will of your heavenly Father, leaving the matter with Him, my mother-heart is touched. I have passed through an experience similar to the experience through which you have just passed . . . .

"You inquire in regard to your little one being saved. Christ's words are your answer: 'Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God.'" Luke 18:16.

"Remember the prophecy, 'Thus saith the Lord; a voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping; Rachel weeping for her children refused to be comforted . . . Thus saith the Lord; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to thine own border.'

"This promise is yours. You may be comforted and trust in the Lord. The Lord has often instructed me that many little ones are to be laid away before the time of trouble. We shall see our children again. We shall meet them and know them in the heavenly courts. Put your trust in the Lord, and be not afraid."

Letter 196, 1899.
